

New & Unusual
Moonraker Books

Josh & Glenn Hauser,
 Proprietors

Moonraker Books has been the hangout for Langley's literati since 1972. A wide selection of fiction, nonfiction, children's titles, cooking and gardening, nature guides, modern and classic literature, art and coffee table books are among the treasures to be found. Unusual and hard-to-find titles are scattered among the reference books, travel guides, poetry, and political manifestoes. Owner and local celebrity Josh Hauser and her knowledgeable staff of book lovers can help with selection, special orders, mailing and gift wrapping. Browsing the well-stocked shelves of this vital independent bookstore is an adventure for readers of all ages.

209 First Street (360) 221-6962
 email: moonrkr@whidbey.com

Mon- Sat: 10:30 to 5:30
 Sunday: 11-5

Langley, Washington on Whidbey Island is a lovely waterfront village featuring dozens of unique specialty shops. In addition to the fine bookshops, you'll enjoy visiting the artisan coffee roasters, bistro-styled restaurants, elegant & upbeat clothing and apparel shops, antiques, a world-class market, mercantile & wine shop, gift shops and a traditional music store.

Every one of the shops in Langley is individually owned, and maintained with the hallmarks of professionalism and passion.

Langley is located on the south end of Whidbey Island, just forty minutes north of Seattle. A fifteen minute ferry ride from Mukilteo to Clinton puts you just minutes from the heart of downtown Langley.

© Lowry-James Rare Prints & Books

Langley Washington

A Book Town by the Sea

Four distinctive bookshops, with over seventy years experience, featuring antiquarian, fine & rare, new, used and collectible books, as well as rare prints and maps, vintage photography and ephemera from the 16th -21st centuries. Tens of thousands of books all within a two block radius.

Antiquarian
Lowry-James Rare Prints & Books, ABAA

Priscilla Lowry-Gregor, Proprietor

Established in 1986, Lowry-James Rare Prints & Books offers a discriminating selection of rare original hand-colored engravings, lithographs and rare books from The Age of Discovery, encompassing Horticulture, Natural History, Travel and Cartography from the 16th -19th centuries. The shop features the original work by the celebrated naturalist John James Audubon, as well as the Pacific Northwest's finest collection of 17th - 19th century botanical prints. In addition, Lowry-James offers distinctive 19th & early 20th century literature by Louisa May Alcott, the Brontes, Willa Cather, Isak Dinesen, Thomas Hardy and Rockwell Kent, and an extensive selection of books on British Culture.

Lowry-James Rare Prints & Books is a proud member of the Antiquarian Booksellers' Association of America (ABAA) and the International League of Antiquarian Booksellers (ILAB).

101 Anthes (360) 221-0477
website: <http://www.lowryjames.com>
Open Daily from 10 am - 5 pm
Closed on Tuesdays

Fine & Rare

Gregor Rare Books, ABAA

David Gregor, Proprietor

David Gregor has been selling used, rare, and collectible books since 1987. Gregor Rare Books specializes in 20th Century Literary First Editions including art, photography, fiction, poetry, the expatriate experience in 1920s Paris, signed astronaut material, books on blues music and the works of Charles Bukowski. Some of the important writers that Gregor Rare Books features include Borges, Marquez, Virginia Woolf, Ernest Hemingway, John Steinbeck, C.S. Lewis, Franz Kafka, Hunter S. Thompson, Raymond Chandler, Richard Brautigan and Larry McMurtry.

Gregor Rare Books is a proud member of the Antiquarian Booksellers' Association of America (ABAA) and the International League of Antiquarian Booksellers (ILAB).

197A 2nd Street (360) 221-8331
website: www.gregorbooks.com.
Open Daily from 10 am- 5 pm
Closed on Tuesdays

Used & Collectible

Word & Pictures Bookshop

John Williams & Joy Griffin, Proprietors

Langley's newest book shop, Words & Pictures, offers used, out of print and collectible books for all sorts of interests. The shop has a particular focus in art and photography, aviation, travel and fiction. There is also a fun selection of vintage paperbacks. In addition to books, Words & Pictures also offers a selection of vintage prints, including a unique collection of photogravures of the Pacific Northwest from the late 19th & early 20th centuries, children's illustrations and related "book arts" prints.

220 2nd Street (360) 221-2434
email: wordsandpictures@whidbey.com
Open 11am-5pm Thursday- Sunday
10am to 4pm Sundays